The Dorset Natural History and Antiquarian Field Club.

---

INAUGURATED MARCH 26TH, 1875.

---

ITS OBJECT.—The object of the Club—consisting at present of nearly 400 members—is to promote and encourage an interest in the study of the Physical Sciences generally and Archæology, especially the Natural History of the County of Dorset, and its Antiquities, Pre-historic Records, and Ethnology. Its influence is used to prevent, as far as possible, the extirpation of rare plants and animals, and to promote the preservation of the Antiquities of the County.

ITS MEETINGS.—It aims at effecting its objects by a series of summer meetings held in different localities each year, and by a series of winter meetings held at the Dorset County Museum.

ITS PUBLICATION.—An illustrated volume of the Club's Proceedings is issued annually, and a copy is presented to each member.

ITS SUBSCRIPTION.—The membership subscription is 10/- a year. There is also an entrance fee of 10/-. Candidates for membership must be nominated by one member and seconded by another, to one of whom at least he or she must be personally known.

OBJECT AND CONSTITUTION.

1.—The Club shall be called The Dorset Natural History and Antiquarian Field Club, and shall have for a short title The Dorset Field Club.

The object of the Club is to promote and encourage an interest in the study of the Physical Sciences and Archæology generally, especially the Natural History of the County of Dorset and its Antiquities, Prehistoric records, and Ethnology. It shall use its influence to prevent, as far as possible, the extirpation of rare plants and animals, and to promote the preservation of the Antiquities of the County.

2.—The Club shall consist of (i.) three Officers, President, Honorary Secretary, and Honorary Treasurer, who shall be elected annually, and shall form the Executive body for its management ; (ii.) Vice-Presidents, of whom the Honorary Secretary and Treasurer shall be two, ex officio ; (iii.) The Honorary Editor of the Annual Volume of Proceedings ; (iv.) Ordinary Members ; (v.) Honorary Members. The President, Vice-Presidents, and Editor shall form a Council to decide questions referred to them by the Executive and to elect Honorary Members. The Editor shall be nominated by one of the incoming Executive and elected at the Annual Meeting.

There may also be one or more Honorary Assistant Secretaries, who shall be nominated by the Honorary Secretary, seconded by the President or Treasurer, and elected by the Members at the Annual Meeting.

Members may be appointed by the remaining Officers to fill interim vacancies in the Executive Body until the following Annual Meeting.

The number of the Club shall be limited to 400, power being reserved to the Council to select from the list of candidates persons, whose membership they may consider to be advantageous to the interests of the Club, to be additional Members.

PRESIDENT AND VICE-PRESIDENTS.

3.—The President shall take the chair at all Meetings, and have an original and a casting vote on all questions before the Meeting. In addition to the two ex officio Vice-Presidents, at least three others shall be nominated by the President, or, in his absence, by the Chairman, and elected at the Annual Meeting.

HON. SECRETARY.

4.—The Secretary shall perform all the usual secretarial work ; cause a programme of each Meeting to be sent to every Member seven days at least before such Meeting ; make all preparations for carrying out Meetings and, with or without the help of a paid Assistant Secretary or others, conduct all Field Meetings. On any questions arising between the Secretary (or Acting Secretary) and a Member at a Field Meeting, the decision of the Secretary shall be final.

The Secretary shall receive from each Member his or her share of the day's expenses, and thereout defray all incidental costs and charges of the Meeting, rendering an account of the same before the Annual Meeting to the Treasurer ; any surplus of such collection shall form part of the General Fund, and any deficit be defrayed out of that Fund.

HON. TREASURER.

5.—The Treasurer shall keep an account of Subscriptions and all other moneys of the Club received and of all Disbursements, rendering at the Annual General Meeting a balance sheet of the same, as well as a general statement of the Club's finances. He shall send copies of the Annual Volume of Proceedings for each year to Ordinary Members who have paid their subscriptions for that year (as nearly as may be possible, in the order of such payment), to Honorary Members, and to such Societies and individuals as the Club may, from time to time, appoint to receive them. He shall also furnish a list at each Annual Meeting, containing the names of all Members in arrears, with the amount of their indebtedness to the Club. He shall also give notice of their election to all New Members.

ORDINARY MEMBERS.

6.—Ordinary Members are entitled to be present and take part in the Club's proceedings at all Meetings, and to receive the published "Proceedings" of the Club, when issued, for the year for which their subscription has been paid.

7.—Every candidate for admission shall be nominated in writing by one Member and seconded by another, to both of whom he must be personally known. He may be proposed at any Meeting, and his name shall appear in the programme of the first following Meeting at which a Ballot is held when he shall be elected by Ballot, one black ball in six to exclude.

Twelve Members shall form a quorum for the purpose of election. A Ballot shall be held at the Annual and Winter Meetings, and may be held at any other Meeting, should the Executive so decide, notice being given in the programme. In the event of the number of vacancies being less than the number of candidates at four successive Meetings, the names of any candidates proposed at the first of such Meetings who have not been elected at one of them shall be withdrawn, and shall not be eligible to be again proposed for election for at least a year after such withdrawal. Provided that if at any Meeting there shall be no vacancies available, it shall not be counted in estimating the above named four Meetings.

8.—The Annual Subscription shall be 10s., which shall become due and payable in advance on the 1st of January in each year. Subscriptions paid on election after September in each year shall be considered as subscriptions for the following year, unless otherwise agreed upon by such Member and the Treasurer. Every Member shall pay immediately after his election the sum of ten shillings as Entrance Fee, in addition to his first Annual Subscription.

9.—No person elected a Member shall be entitled to exercise any privilege as such until he has paid his Entrance Fee and first Subscription, and no Member shall be entitled to receive a copy of the "Proceedings" for any year until his Subscription for that year has been paid.

10.—A registered letter shall be sent by the Hon. Treasurer to any Member whose Subscription is in arrear at the date of any Annual Meeting, demanding payment within 28 days, failing which he shall cease to be a Member of the Club, but shall, nevertheless, be liable for the arrears then due.

11.—Members desiring to leave the Club shall give notice of the same in writing to the Treasurer (or Secretary), but, unless such notice is given before the end of January in any year, they shall be liable to pay the Annual Subscription due to the Club on and after January 1st in that year.

HONORARY MEMBERS.

12.—Honorary Members shall consist of persons eminent for scientific or natural history attainments, and shall be elected by the Council. They pay no subscription, and have all the privileges of Ordinary Members, except voting.

MEETINGS.

13.—The Annual General Meeting shall be held as near the first week in May as may be convenient ; to receive the outgoing President's Address (if any) and the Treasurer's financial report ; to elect the Officers and Editor for the ensuing year ; to determine the number (which shall usually be three or four), dates, and places of Field Meetings during the ensuing summer, and for general purposes

14.—Two Winter Meetings shall usually be held in or about the months of December or February for the exhibition of Objects of Interest (to which not more than one hour of the time before the reading of the Papers shall be devoted), for the reading and discussion of Papers, and for general purposes.

The Dates and Places of the Winter and Annual Meetings shall be decided by the Executive.

15.—A Member may bring Friends to the Meetings subject to the following restrictions :—No person (except the husband, wife or child of a Member), may attend the Meeting unaccompanied by the Member introducing him, unless such Member be prevented attending from illness, and no Member may take with him to a Field Meeting more than one Friend, whose name and address must be submitted to the Hon. Secretary and approved by him or the Executive.

The above restrictions do not apply to the Executive or to the Acting Secretary at the Meeting.

16.—Members must give due notice (with prepayment of expenses) to the Hon. Secretary of their intention to be present, with or without a Friend, at any Field Meeting, in return for which the Secretary shall send to the Member a card for admission to the Meeting, to be produced when required. Any Member who, having given such notice, fails to attend, will be liable only for any expenses actually incurred on his account, and any balance will be returned to him on application. The sum of 1s., or such other amount as the Hon. Secretary may consider necessary, shall be charged to each person attending a Field Meeting, for Incidental Expenses.

17.—The Executive may at any time call a Special General Meeting of the Members upon their initiative or upon a written requisition (signed by Eight Members) being sent to the Honorary Secretary. Any proposition to be submitted shall be stated in the Notice, which shall be sent to each Member of the Club not later than seven days before the Meeting.

PAPERS.

18.—Notice shall be given to the Secretary, a convenient time before each Meeting, of any motion to be made or any Paper or communication desired to be read, with its title and a short sketch of its scope or contents. The insertion of these in the Programme is subject to the consent of the Executive.

19.—The Publications of the Club shall be in the hands of the Executive, who shall appoint annually Three or more Ordinary Members to form with them and the Editor a Publication Committee for the purpose of deciding upon the contents of the Annual Volume. These contents shall consist of original papers and communications written for the Club, and either read, or accepted as read, at a General Meeting; also of the Secretary's Reports of Meetings, the Treasurer's Financial Statement and Balance Sheet, a list to date of all Members of the Club, and of those elected in the current or previous year, with the names of their proposers and seconders. The Annual Volume shall be edited by the Editor subject to the direction of the Publication Committee.

20.—Twenty-five copies of his paper shall be presented to each author whose communication shall appear in the volume as a separate article, on notice being given by him to the Publisher to that effect.

THE AFFILIATION OF SOCIETIES AND LIBRARIES TO THE CLUB.

21.—Any Natural History or Antiquarian Society in the County may be affiliated to the Dorset Field Club on payment of an annual fee of Ten Shillings, in return for which the annual volume of the Proceedings of the Field Club shall be sent to such Society.

Every affiliated Society shall send the programme of its Meetings to the Hon. Secretary of the Field Club, and shall also report any discoveries of exceptional interest. And the Field Club shall send its programme to the Hon. Secretary of each affiliated Society.

The Members of the Field Club shall not be eligible, ipso facto, to attend any Meetings of affiliated Societies. and the Members of any affiliated Society shall not be eligible, ipso facto, to attend any Meetings of the Field Club. But any Member of an affiliated Society shall be eligible to read a paper or make an exhibit at the Winter Meetings of the Field Club at Dorchester.

Any Public Library or Club, or School or College Library, in England or elsewhere, may be affiliated to the Dorset Field Club on payment of an annual fee of Ten Shillings, in return for which the annual volume of the Proceedings of the Field Club shall be sent to such Library.

SECTIONAL COMMITTEES.

22.—Small Committees may be appointed at the Annual General Meeting to report to the Club any interesting facts or discoveries relating to the various sections which they represent ; and the Committee of each section may elect one of their Members as a Corresponding Secretary.

NEW RULES.

23.—No alteration in or addition to these Rules shall be made except with the consent of a majority of three-fourths of the Members present at the Annual General Meeting, full notice of the proposed alteration or addition having been given both in the current Programme and in that of the previous Meeting.

JUNIOR SUPPLEMENT TO VOLUME 83 OF THE PROCEEDINGS OF THE DORSET NATURAL HISTORY AND ARCHAEOLOGICAL SOCIETY

Junior Members will notice that this Supplement comprises only four pages as against eight last year. The reason for this is mainly the success of the duplicated News Letter, which has appeared at intervals, giving news and articles on the Dorset scene more informally than in the Supplement. It is felt that the annual Supplement may best be reserved for a brief diary of junior activities, past and to come, together with details of membership, a membership list and competitions.

SECRETARY OF THE JUNIOR MEMBERS' SECTION

Mr. Alan Penny, who has been Hon. Secretary of the Junior Section of the Society since its inception in 1958, has had to resign owing to pressure of other commitments. We are extremely indebted to him for his energy and enthusiasm in inaugurating both Winter and Summer meetings for Juniors. This was not easy with a membership scattered somewhat thinly through the county. We are fortunate in his successor, Mr. Philip Whatmoor, who is keen to organize some interesting activities. He is already responsible for two new ideas: the Junior Competition, and the Junior Showcase, both of which are announced below. Junior Members should back him up by supporting meetings in larger numbers and by taking full advantage of the facilities of membership.

REPORT OF MEETINGS HELD DURING 1961-62

Meetings held during the 1961-62 season were very much enjoyed by those who attended but the support was rather disappointing on occasions.

Second Field Meeting 1961. Saturday, 19th August.

The Village and Swannery of Abbotsbury.—Eleven Junior Members were present accompanied by Professor Good, Mr. R. Peers and Mr. A. Penny.

A detailed programme included a visit to Abbsbury Church and a visit to the Abbey of St. Peter. The Swannery was visited after lunch and the day was concluded with a study of Abbotsbury Castle.

Winter Meeting, 1962, Friday 5th January

There was a good attendance at the Museum to see four films. These were Animals of the Rocky Shore, The Heathlands, The Rival World and Penguins of the Macquarie Islands. Among those present it was very pleasant to see several Senior members who are always welcome to any Junior Meeting.

First Field Meeting, 1962, Saturday, April 28th

Corfe Castle and Wareham—Thirteen Junior Members were present accompanied by Captain Foster and Mr. A. Penny, who acted as guide in an interesting tour of Wareham, including the St. Martin's and Lady St. Mary Churches and the town walls. The afternoon was spent at Corfe where, as well as the Castle ruins, the Museum and the Church were visited.

Second Field Meeting 1962, Thursday, August 30th

Creech Grange—Eight Junior Members accompanied by Captain Foster and Miss Cooke visited Creech Grange. The visit to this famous house and the grounds made a very enjoyable finish to the Meetings for the Summer.

PROGRAMME PLANNED FOR 1963

Field Meetings

(1) Thursday, 18th April. This will include a tour of the Poole Pottery Works, a visit to Wimborne Museum and an inspection of the 'dig' on the mediaeval site in the Leaze, Wimborne.

(2) Monday, 29th July (provisional date). A visit to a Bridport Rope Factory and afterwards to see a collection of tropical birds and animals belonging to Mr. J. Stevens Cox at Morecombelake.

(3) Saturday, 31st August (provisional date). An afternoon studying the Natural History of the seashore.

Details will be circulated before each Meeting.

A JUNIOR SHOWCASE

A Junior Showcase in the Museum will be inaugurated. It will be devoted to items of archaeology, history and natural history found by Junior Members and will be arranged by joint Junior Curators. Further information will be circulated later.

EXCAVATIONS

Juniors are encouraged to visit and help at excavations in the County and the Junior Secretary will give details to anyone interested.

COMPETITIONS FOR 1963

Prizes will be given for the best entries on the following subjects:—

(1) A photograph taken on a Junior Field Meeting.

(2) A painting, drawing or photograph of a coastal scene.

Entries should be sent to the Junior Secretary c/o Museum, Dorchester, by the 30th September 1963. Age will be taken into account and it is hoped that the second subject in particular will give full rein to all Juniors with artistic inclinations.

Entries must be certified as the entrant's own work.

(3) The most interesting exhibit sent in for the new Junior Showcase for 1963.

Details will be sent, together with information on the Showcase.

EXCAVATING AS A HOLIDAY

The greatly increased public interest in Archaeology is reflected in many ways. Obvious ones are the radio and television programmes, such as "The Archaeologist" running currently and "Animal, Vegetable and Mineral" which was so successful a few years ago. There is also an ever increasing number of books on every aspect of Archaeology. These vary from expensive lavish pictorial presentations to Penguin books and there is sure to be one to suit every pocket. They are very different from the dusty tomes of the past, with a comparatively limited circulation.

Another result of this interest has been a minor revolution in the holiday habits of hundreds of people. Whether looking for something really different or maybe tired of touring abroad, more and more people are spending their holidays with trowel and brush in hand on one of the many excavations to be found in this country from the Outer Hebrides to the South Coast. It is very satisfying to know that without this voluntary help archaeologists would on many occasions be unable to work at all, but sometimes when a site is threatened by development there is the greater satisfaction that something has been saved that would otherwise have been irretrievably lost.

It is very easy to arrange such a holiday. The Council for British Archaeology issue a monthly calendar and the undecided can select at his or her leisure a site almost anywhere in the British Isles of any period from Stone Age to Mediaeval. The calendar will say whether inexperienced diggers are welcome and some sites will be especially suitable for younger people in having accommodation such as a school nearby.

A word of warning at this stage. If this type of holiday is chosen it is more than likely that it will become a regular habit year after year probably at the same site. Many excavations now have a faithful nucleus of volunteers who return again and again incidentally gaining a unique expert knowledge of their site. It is also inevitable that under the stimulus of finding and handling pottery, coins and other remains an interest in Archaeology will be awakened which will lead to much further research and study.

This is the best way to meet Archaeology for the first time; to find the reality first and read about it later, in the same way that six months in France can teach more of the language than five years in school.

It would not be a holiday anywhere without finding interesting people to meet and these excavations provide a social life unknown on the usual rather introspective Summer holiday of the average family. A great variety of people go digging; students from many parts of the world on courses, business men on their limited two weeks, retired people, school staff on their long vacations and schoolboys who perhaps might be camping near the site.

Of course, excavations are being carried out during the year by Archaeological Societies at weekends, sometimes with a full fortnight's work in the Summer. These weekends give an excellent opportunity to learn the ropes if anyone is a bit diffident about starting with a full holiday, and there are weekend digs in Dorset.

In the Senior Proceedings there is a report of the excavations at a Roman Hill Fort on Waddon Hill at Stoke Abbott directed by Dr. Graham Webster. This was started in 1959 and has already a faithful following of volunteers. Work so far has investigated what is probably the headquarters area and 1963 will see the completion of this and work will then proceed towards what is expected to be barrack blocks and granaries. The precise of occupation of the Fort presents some difficulties but at the same time adds considerable interest to the search for a vital piece of dating evidence. This excavation takes place early in the season at the beginning of June. Dr. Webster says Juniors are very welcome to help at the weekends and to see what goes on.

NOTE:—Details of excavations that require volunteers are published from March to September in the monthly Calendar of Excavations issued by the Council for British Archaeology. This is usually available for inspection at the Museum or may be obtained for a whole season by sending 5s. P.O. to the Assistant Secretary, C.B.A., 10 Bolton Gardens, London, S.W.5.

JUNIOR MEMBERSHIP

Membership is open to anyone up to the age of 18 or up to the age of 23 for those at University or receiving other full time education.

All Juniors are encouraged to make full use of the advantages of membership, and are reminded that these are:—

- (1) To make full use of the Museum.
- (2) To attend any Meetings of the Society. This includes both Junior and Senior Meetings.
- (3) To receive a copy of the Junior Supplement to the Proceedings.
- (4) To receive the Junior News Letter, take part in competitions and other activities organized by the Junior Committee.
- (5) To enter for the Cecil Competition and Chas. D. Drew Competition, which are organized by the respective Trustees.

In addition to free entrance to the Museum, the 10s. annual subscription also means no entrance fee is payable on becoming a Senior Member of the Society.
